

LET'S LOOK BEYOND OUR EVERYDAY TIMBER SPECIES

We use trees for construction, paper,
medicine, fuels &
food production.

There are over +60 000 species
in the tropics

We are currently
using a select few
tree species.

We are limiting
sustainable forestry
by our species choice.

By choosing a lesser known timber species
you are:

- Taking off ecological pressure of the commercial timber species
- Strengthening ecosystems
- Helping to improve the sustainable forestry business model.
- Supporting a more diverse and resilient timber market, safeguarding timber supplies for the future.
